CONCRESSMEN SANG SONGS.

House Adjourns Amid Scenes of Great Jollity.

TART DEBATE IN SENATE.

It Was Over Philippine Question |-Thanks Voted President Pro Tem Frye-His Acknowledgement.

Washington, July 1.-Amid a scene of enthusiasm that has not been paralleled since the exciting and stirring days of the Spanish war, Speaker Henderson at 5:30 this afternoon declared the house of presentatives adjourned without day. In doing so he said that no house of representatives since the adoption of the Constitution had done as much work as this one. The audience to which he made his brief address was a williant one. The galleries were anked to the doors and almost twomirds of the members were in their gats on the floor. The speaker's apreciative words to the members on hanking them for their co-operation during the session had touched a reduring the session had touched a re-ponsive chord, and they gave him a remarkable demonstration of their frendship and good will. While the cheering and applause were still in progress, the members on the floor began singing "My Country, "Tis of Thee." It was taken up by the correspondents in the press gallery over the speaker's chair and by the spectators in the surrounding galleries and soon the vast hall was ringing with the the vast hall was ringing with the swelling chorus. Other patriotic airs followed as the members exchanged farewells. "The Star Spangled Ban-ner" alternating with "Dixie." The speaker came down from his rostrum, his appearance on the floor being greeted with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and a perfect rush of members to grasp his hand. Standing in the area in front of the clerk's desk he, too, joined in the songs and there was a wild scene when Gen. Hooker of Mississippi, an old one-armed con-federate veteran, took his place by the side of the speaker and together they sang "Dixie."

Mr. Candler, a Mississippi Democrat, jumped upon a desk and let out a yell of jubilation that fairly shook the rafters. For almost an hour, the jubilation continued. All this time the spectators remained standing in the specials retained statuting in the gallete watching the animated scene below and joining in the singing. The adjoinment came at the end of a sever and a half hours' session, during which much minor business

In all 70 bills and resolutions were passed. The general good feeling in the house had been heightened by the vic-tory won over the senate on the item in the naval appropriation bill for the building of a battleship in a government yard the closing hour was occupied in a spirited debate between Mr. Cousins of lowa and Mr. Richardson, the Demoeratic leader, over the report on the in-Can Christmas concerning the sale of Danish West Indies. Mr. Cousins diculed Mr. Richardson for bringing the matter to the attention of Congress. The latter defended his course.

At 5.28 Mr. Payne, on behalf of the committee to notify the president, reported that the president had no furthe communication to make.

The speaker then arose and with evidependent of much feeling addressed the house as follows:

LORD PAUNCEFOTE'S REMAINS. Placed Aboard the Brooklyn, They Start for England.

Washington, July 1.-Very quietly and without formal ceremony the body of the late Lord Pauncefote, British embassador to the United States, was removed from the city today. The remains were taken from their resting place in the Rock Creek cematery and conveyed by special train to Annapolis, where the last ceremony in this coun-try were held. The entire staff of the British embassy accompanied the re-nains to Annapolis. There the funeral train was met by detachment of marines and seamen, and the remains were escorted from the railway station to the naval academy wharf. The body hearers were sixteen in number, eight sailors and eight marines. A cassion drawn by six h *ses and manned by members of the Fourth battery. United States artillery, from Fort Meyer, Va., bore the casket. A salute of nineteen guns was fired as the body was placed aboard the Standish, which conveyed it to the cruiser Brook-

Grand Total.... .. ....$809.195.837 The total last year was $730 338,575. CANNON'S STATEMENT.

Chairman Cannon of the house approriation committee today presented ; statement of the appropriations mad at the present sesion of Congress show ing a total of $750,063,857, not including the large amounts that will be required expenditures, appropriations of of for the isthmian canal and public build.

"An analysis of this table shows that the total estimates of expenditure forecast by the executive departments aggregates $776,358,318, that the total apropriations made, exclusive of $50,-130,000 toward an isthmian canal, ag-gregate $750,063,837."

After giving in detail the appropria tions under each bill, Mr. Cannon says "It is not inappropriate here to adver to the fact that the expenditures for show that during that period there has been appropriated to the sinking fund more than $113,000,000, a sum greater than the law actually requires, and which exceeds the whole amount apolled to the extinguishment of the pub le debt during all of the nine fisca rears from 1891 to 1899, inclusive. ## QUEEN ALEXANDRA

London, July 1 .- The re-appearance today of Queen Alexandra as a participant in a public ceremony practically marks the end of the period of anxiety caused by King Edward's condition. Her presence at the review of the colonial troops by the Prince of Wales greatly increased public enthusiasm over what in itself was a pleturesque and interesting event. Upwards of 2,500 olonials were brought in from the various encampments and marched through great crowds down Constitution Hill, which was lined with troops, past Buckingham palace, which for a week has been the center of such supreme interest and along the Mall to the Horse Guards parade. The contingent present represented all parts of the British emire, with the exception of India, whose coops will be separately reviewed to-forrow. The Canadian detachment numbered 600 men and was the largest body on parade. The smallest detach-ment consisted of three natives of the sland of North Lucia, Borneo, Ceylon, Fiji, the West Indies generally, Cyprus the Gold Coast, Nigeria, Uganda and ther remote colonies were represented y native troops in clothing of striking ariety, while straight from the fighting ne in South Africa were details from the Canadian scouts, Kitchener's horse and contingents from a number of local levies raised during the war.

The queen's appearance while on her way from the palace to the Horse Guards was greeted with cheers which ncreased in strength as the spectators noticed that the ordeal of the past week had but little affected her majesty's health and noted the absence of any signs of anxiety as she cheerly ac-knowledged the congratulations of the public at the uninterrupted progress of beside her being the Princess of Wales, and seated opposite were the Princess Victoria and Princess Charles of Denmark.

Several carriages containing the Duke of Cambridge, the Duchess of Con-naught and others, followed. The Prince of Wales was accompanied by the crown prince of Den-mark, Prince Frederick, Prince Charles of Denmark and their suites, and by the foreign attaches, including Maj. E. B. Cassatt, the United States military attache. The Duke of Connaught and Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief surrounded by brilliant staffs, rode behind the Prince of Wales' party. The long lines of troops completely filled the Horse Guards' parade, and their varie-gated uniforms stood out in vivid conrast with the trees in the park.

Thousands of spectators filled the stands or stood behind the police.

Among the Interested on-lookers was Prince "Eddy" and the other children of the Prince and Princess of Wales. All the colonial premiers, Indian prin-ces and other guests of the nation were present, to say nothing of people and members of the house of commons vithout end. The troops marched quickly past the queen's carriage, the Prince of Wales receiving the salule. The queen then drove slowly in and out of the lines and the Prince of Wales closely inspected the troops and dismounted and conferred medals and crosses on those who have conferred the honors, shoking who had merited the honors, shaking hands with the recipients of the Victoria cross.

Then followed the most picturesque feature of the day.

The Duke of Connaught, at the head of the troops and facing the Prince of Wales, in clear tones, gave the com-"The parade will give three cheers for the king," and himself started the
